Dear Resident

Survey, geotechnical and utilities investigation

Work is continuing to construct the WestConnex Motorway, linking Sydney's west and south-west with the airport and port. WestConnex will ease congestion, create jobs and connect communities.

From March to late 2016, survey, geotechnical and utility investigations will continue at a number of locations in the project area between Homebush and Haberfield to further assist the detailed design process for the M4 East.

Most work locations are within the road alignment or on publicly owned land. If access to private property is required, property owners will be contacted in advance.

Generally, work will take place between 7am and 6pm from Monday to Friday and between 8am to 1pm on Saturday. Some work will be done outside of these hours to minimise impacts to traffic and ensure the safety of workers and motorists. You will be notified if this work is undertaken near your property.

What will the work involve?

Survey work will include surveying roadways and footpaths with hand held equipment. The surveying is not noisy and is not expected to impact pedestrians or traffic and will not require access to private properties.

Geotechnical investigations will include:

- identifying underground services and utilities and marking out locations for each borehole
- setting up a safe work area with site specific environmental controls around each site
- collecting borehole soil and rock samples.

A temporary worksite will be set up at the location. Each site will be around 15 metres long by 5 metres wide.

Utility investigations will involve the use of a small excavator to locate underground services. This work may generate intermittent noise.

Every effort will be made to minimise the impact of work, including by using non-tonal reversing beepers on all machinery, turning off equipment and vehicles when not in use and, where possible, directing noisy equipment away from residences. All worksites will also be restored to their previous condition.

If you would like further information about the upcoming work, please contact 1300 660 248 or info@westconnex.com.au.

Yours sincerely
