

Water Main Cutover Work - Haberfield

From Monday, 27 August 2018, work will recommence to finalise the water main installed by the M4 East Project in 2016/2017. This work has been scheduled in conjunction with Sydney Water. Temporary water outages will be required and Sydney Water will notify if you will be affected.

Day work is expected take up to three weeks to complete, with one night shift expected to take place on Wednesday, 5 September 2018. If this work cannot be completed during this time, you will be notified.

A map showing changed traffic conditions and work areas is provided overleaf.

What we're doing

This work will involve:

- installing temporary traffic barriers around the work areas;
- excavating and preparing the work areas;
- Sydney Water will provide a temporary water outage which will allow the project to permanently alter the junction of the pipes;
- backfilling and remediating the work areas.

Equipment used will include vacuum trucks, cranes, millers, pavers, drum rollers, excavators with hammers, compactor plates, trucks, concrete trucks, hand tools and lighting equipment.

How this affects you

Please note that the following traffic changes will be in place for the duration of the work:

- Alt Street will be temporarily closed at the intersection of Ramsay Street, access to Alt Street will be via Empire Street and Waratah Street;
- Martin Street at its intersection with Ramsay Street will be exit only, access into Martin Street will be via Wattle Street.

Pedestrian access will be maintained. Traffic control and pedestrian management will be in place to ensure the safety of motorists, residents and workers. If you travel along the route, please allow extra travel time and follow the signage and direction of traffic controllers.

There will be some noise associated with this work and every effort will be made to minimise this including turning off equipment and vehicles when not in use and where possible, directing noisy equipment away from residences.
