

Night work and long-term traffic changes on Euston Road Alexandria from Friday 12 October

New pavement construction work is progressing along the western (Sydney Park) side of Euston Road, south of the Sydney Park Road and Huntley Street intersection.

New Ausgrid, Telstra, Optus and water utilities have been installed and the road pavement and kerb construction is nearing completion. Day and night work will take place from 7am on Friday 12 October to 1pm on Saturday 13 October to move traffic onto the western side of Euston Road.

Local access will be permitted for southbound traffic on Euston Road throughout the work, please follow the direction of traffic control.

The construction work area will move from the western side to the eastern side of Euston Road, south of the intersection with Sydney Park Road and Huntley Street.

Traffic will continue to travel southbound only, with vehicle parking available on the western side.

This road configuration is expected to be in place for approximately 12 months.

What we're doing

Work will take place to asphalt sections of road pavement, relocate concrete barriers, remove existing line marking and install new line marking to realign traffic from the current road alignment on the eastern side of Euston Road onto the newly constructed road alignment on the western side.

Once implemented, there will be some changes to property access along the eastern side of Euston Road. Access will be maintained for businesses via Euston Road or Burrows Road.

Please see maps overleaf.
