

Night work and road closure on Euston Road, Alexandria

Work is continuing Euston Road to install low voltage power cable that will eventually feed new street lighting. This work will take place south of Sydney Park Roundabout at night under traffic management for the safety of the workers, motorists, pedestrians and cyclists.

What we're doing

A crew will install a new electrical pit within the footpath to connect low voltage electrical cables from Euston Road to Huntley Street. Night work will be carried out from 9pm to 5am each night from Monday 6 August to Wednesday 8 August and Friday 10 August.

Work will involve creating a small hole, installing power conduits, pulling cable through the conduits and backfilling the ground. Saw cutting will be completed during the day time shift.

Traffic changes

Euston Road south of Sydney Park Roundabout will be closed to the wider public each night. Access for local businesses will be maintained. Residents living on Campbell Road are encouraged to use Burrows Road during this closure.

A map showing the location of the work and the road closure is provided overleaf.

Traffic control, signage, detours and reduced speed limits will be in place to assist residents and road users to navigate around the closure.

Minimising impact on residents

Equipment used during the work will include lighting towers, hand tools, vacuum truck, excavator, bucket trucks, generators, traffic management and construction vehicles.

The work is expected to create minimal noise for residents located north of the roundabout on Euston Road. Every effort will be made to further minimise noise and light spill associated with work by:

- Scheduling noisy work to take place early in the night where possible
- Installing noise blankets around the work site
- Saw cutting the trench during daytime hours
- Turning off equipment and vehicles when not in use
